

Bernese Mountain Dogs - Puppy Bill of Rights

We have the right:

To be sold to a warm and loving family who will truly respect us and accept us as one of the family.

To the best quality health care available.

To good nutrition and good health decisions

To play, explore and enjoy proper games for us and good stimulating dog toys.

I will love you unconditionally. Will you commit to the same?

To regular exercise which might include walks so that we learn not to pull you down the street.

To at least go to Kindergarten class as well as one basic obedience class. More if you can keep up with us.

To gentle, loving and compassionate training; we need to learn good manners.

To become whatever we can be and not be forced into an activity, be showing, drafting, obedience, agility---

To corrections and guidance based on compassion and understanding rather than abuse
