Patti Johnson

Hello. My name is Eddie Johnson. I was born 6/12/06 and boy am I a happy dog. I was rescued by BARC (Bernese Auction Rescue Coalition) in 2006. On September 23, 2006 my new mom arrived at BARC headquarters to pick me up and take me to my new home. I had no idea what I was in for. When she first came in the house at BARC to meet me, I didn't really pay any attention to her because I didn't know why she was there. Had I known then what I know now, I would have jumped into her arms the moment I met her. We began our long ride back home to Wisconsin. I was very scared. When we got home I met my new dad. I didn't stay awake very long that night because I was exhausted from the trip and all the excitement. The next morning we all got up and I got to see more of what my new home was like. I found out we live out in the country on a 40 acre horse farm! I knew right away that I was in heaven. I get to romp and play in the fields and we take long walks every day. I love my mom so much that I like to follow her everywhere she goes. I like to give her pokes in the butt if I don't think she's giving me enough attention. She doesn't seem to mind it all. It makes her smile. On January 11, 2007 my mom brought home a sister for me named Dolly. Dolly also came from BARC. You can read all about her on her own page. Dolly and I have a grand time together. She's older than I am but she's much more cautious about things so I am teaching her how to be a brave sister. I am so happy that BARC rescued me and allowed my mom to take me to my forever home. I wish all dogs could be as happy as I am. Thank you mom.

Love,

Eddie
