

Sprite

Pittsburgh

Sprite was rescued from a puppy mill situation in east-central Ohio. He was eight weeks old and one of eight puppies of the litter. He was rescued and fostered by Vilma Briggs. Sprite found his forever home through Thirtyme Rescue.

When Sprite entered foster care he was sweet but a very tiny Bernese Mountain pup. He was half the size of his litter mates and much more immature and uncoordinated. He was slow to learn new things but very cute. Vilma carried him around in her arms (a lot) as she walked around the house so that the "big dogs" would not step on him. Extensive blood work was done to rule out illness and all came back normal, including ruling out liver shunt. Little Sprite grew steadily in foster care. He continues to progress in his forever home in Pittsburgh, where he is known as Bruder. He is a gentle and calm puppy who is very patient with the antics of his five year old human brother.
